Col. White, Messrs. Kirkpatrick, Helms, Bissell,

Mr. Dulles:

a. Referred to a proposal submitted by [redacted] and noted that in a recent telephone conversation between General Donovan and Mr. Houston, Gen. Donovan had indicated that General Erskine was in favor of this project. The Director said that the OCB had taken a rather dim view of it and further that CIA is already doing some of the things recommended therein. The Director commented it appeared to him that this was a military rather than an intelligence project, and upon being advised by Mr. Wisner that [redacted] of Gen. Erskine's office was coming in to see him [redacted] asked Mr. Wisner to take up this matter with [redacted]. The Director said DD/P might advise [redacted] we assumed the proposal in question would be placed before the JCS and CIA would develop covert annexes when necessary and as required.
